FROM YOUR PARISH PRIEST

Ash Wednesday is a quiet day. There is no Gloria, no flowers, no fanfare. We come forward in silence and receive the ashes with words that are rather stark and haunting: "Remember thou art dust and to dust thou shalt return." ... In a culture that prefers distraction and easy optimism, the Church begins Lent by telling us the truth. We are not self-sufficient or permanent; we depend upon God for every breath. The ashes are not meant to depress us but to steady us. They place our lives in their proper perspective. There is great honesty in this day. We acknowledge our need for mercy. We admit that we have not loved God or neighbour as we should. Yet Ash Wednesday is about repentance, not shame. The same God who reminds us that we are dust is the One who formed us from that dust with tenderness and care. The ashes come from last year's palms. What was waved in celebration becomes the sign of repentance. Joy and sorrow, praise and penance, belong together. The road to Easter passes through Lent. Lent offers three simple practices: prayer, fasting and almsgiving. Prayer re-centres us, fasting loosens our attachment to comfort and almsgiving turns us outward in love. They are not ends in themselves but ways of drawing closer to Christ. The ashes will, of course, fade. The call to repentance must not. Lent has begun. Let us take it seriously and calmly. God asks not for grand gestures, but for our hearts.

God bless you all,
Fr Hilton
